Thank you for your business! Supply chain issues have made paper and other material availability volatile. Lead times on some materials are weeks out and pricing for some materials change daily. Quoted prices are subject to change based on material pricing and availability, when order is placed; if there is a change you will be notified prior to the order going to production. Items ordered under a contract will not be subject to price changes unless the contract has been amended by contracting parties. Contract pricing is based on certain specifications, if a contract product is not available for production, a substitution will be recommended and quoted appropriately, for the client to accept or decline. All quotes are based on client supplying print ready art. If job specifications are modified, pricing may be subject to change. It is the buyer's responsibility to review the accuracy of the information outlined in this quote.
